

Ukraine : Anna

Anti-Corruption Lawyer

Anna is a middle-aged woman, working for an anti-corruption non-governmental organization in Ukraine. She leads many cases against high-profile corruption within the Ukrainian government.

She stores important documents on her laptop. She uses WhatsApp to communicate with her team and family. She often needs to print documents in order to file legal requests.

"I don't want important legal documents ending up in the hands of my adversaries. I also don't want to put my team at risk."

Goals

She wants to win her cases against corrupted officials.

She wants to keep herself and her team members safe from state-level actors.

#securecomms #opsec
#datasecurity

Threats

Partly Free
(Freedom on the Net 2017)

Her phone was stolen and then returned by a random person.

Her team conversations on WhatsApp have been repeatedly leaked.

There may be some documents on her device that could potentially incriminate her and other innocent people.

#surveillance #info_leak

Internews
Local voices. Global change.

Strengths

Anna uses full-disk encryption and all of her devices are password protected. She uses WhatsApp for all important conversations and has 2-factor authentication enabled on all important accounts.

Questions

Can someone break into my device if it is locked?

I was told that WhatsApp is safe, so how can our information be repeatedly leaked?